EXTRACTS FROM A LETTER FROM A NORTH CAROLINIAN NOW TRAVELING IN EUROPE.

[The following interesting extracts from a letter from a North Carolinian traveling in Europe to a friend in Wilmington, which we find in the Journal, will be read with interest. The writer of the letter is an estimable citizen of Raleigh:]

DRESDEN, (SAXONY,) Nov. 9, 1868.

My Dear —— ——:

We propose to write you a few lines in regard to Europe as it appears to us. But before we begin, let us make a little request of you, that you will take pity on us and let us see your hand writing. * * * We will probably receive it at Rome, when if you have any ghostly petitions for our Father, the Pope, write them out, and we will be most happy to have them properly presented to his Holiness.

Since writing you, we have sat with our feet ankle deep in Summer snow on Gorsegghat (9,554 feet above the sea) and viewed twenty-one snow peaks and the Matterhorn towering above us and ten glaciers below us. We were detained by a storm four days in the Simplon Pass by an Alpine storm, which so destroyed the great Simplon road that we had to clamber over avalanches and through new made beds of mountain torrents on foot to reach Lake Magiore.—We took a skiff in the streets of an Italian village, for the first stories of the houses were under water, and rowed through beautiful groves and came near being wrecked upon a mile-stone on the Simplon road.—We took a steamer, and, passing the Barromean Islands, reached the cars by a row boat at Arona, having seen an inundation greater than has been known for five hundred years.

We passed two or three days at Milan, and enjoyed two or three hours among the three thousand statutes on the pinnacles and spires of the Dome. We re-crossed the Alps on the wonderful Mont Ceres Railroad, which, having more dangers to provide against, seems one of the safest roads in the world. We arrived in time at Berne to see the wonderful glow of the Bernese Alps at sundown, for they look as if they were mountains of white glass, lit from a fire within. We heard the sound of human voices in a funeral dirge, the whistling of the wind, the thunder of the storm, all produced by a skilled hand upon the wonderful Fribonig Organ. We sailed through the Lake of Thun; we heard the Alpine horns in the valley of Lauterbrunnen; we felt the mist at the bottom of the 960 feet of the Stanbach Falls, and came over the Brunig Pass, to see the Lion of Lucern. We set our watches by the Strasbourgh clock; we saw, but did not feel, the silver claws of the Tiger at Berne; we paid our respects to the Jew at Frankfort; examined the boat-mills at Mayence, and with a bottle of wine and basket of grapes, we sat sail on the Rhine. The guide book mentions the location of Caclais bridge, the memories of Russian, French and Swedish heroes who fought, bled and died on its banks, but what is visible to us is its quaint old castles, its railroad on each bank, with the ornamented tunnels, vine clad hills, its thousands of river craft, the active living Present. We first realized the rigor of the present Prussian Government, when we saw large numbers of men engaged in improving the channel of a river which has been navigated for three thousand years.

At Cologne we saw the sluggishess of the past with the activity of the present. On the one hand the far-famed Cathedral, whose towers are to be 500 feet, have reached only 160, after 300 years of labor and begging. On the other hand you see the Rhine spanned by an iron bridge, the creation of two years, whose splendor you may imagine when I tell you that each end is surmounted by an equestrian bronze statue, that each statue must have cost twenty thousand dollars.

At the shrine of the 11,000 Virgins of Cologne, we fully realize that the superstitions of the past are yet in full force. The walls of this huge Church were filled with bones, the ceilings were frescored with bones; from the thousand openings in the gilded gratings peeped human skulls, each with its velvet band and the "creatur's" name worked in guilt; bushels of human teeth, basket of thorns from our Saviour's Crown, and a piece of the real cross. These people, and the learned fathers who exhibited them, looked as if they expected us to believe all this, and that these were the bones of the people who died fourteen hundred years ago.

At Berlin we saw the present King, a handsome, vigorous looking old man, who works every day as hard as any of his subjects. We saw thousands of his soldiers, who were remarkably handsome and intelligent looking, their dress and equipment of the best material. About his soldiers there was no appearance of show, even the button was plain polished gilt, the helmet, of polished leather, surmounted by a brass point. The country roads are all macadamized, the land splendidly cultivated, and at this season we saw thousands of mounds, which held the crop of sugar beets; the number and size of these mounds showing what an amount of vegetable matter must have been produced. Col. Fremont, I wish that you could examine the Cologne and Berlin railway. It is double tracked, and in the 393 miles you will not find one battered rail, nor one defective cross tie. The locomotives do not show a piece of brass nor an ornament of any kind. We saw a twenty five ton locomotive drawing 63 loaded cars, and loads that you would not put on your cars—cars 32 feet long, 8 pair of wheels, without trucks, moving fifty miles an hour—it is so steady that you can write with ease. The road is manned by men who have been soldiers, and who execute orders as they are given with promptness. This road pays 12 per cent. If we had the money and the business, with our grades, we could do likewise. Plant grapes, and the business and money will come. You have often heard it said that "there was plenty more Dutchmans in Holland;" you have no idea how many Germans there are in Germany who want to go to America, and they want to go to America to own land. Here land is worth $600 to $2,500 an acre. They do not want to go there to cultivate cotton, corn or tobacco; they want to cultivate what they are accustomed to—vegetables and grapes. Hundreds will come, if you will pay them part in land, part in money. The cost of their transportation will be about forty dollars ahead, and they would not expect more wages than you now pay for the poor labor you hire; but they must have the assurance that their children will be well off.

London is now supplied abundantly with fresh fruit and grapes from Spain. Berlin is supplied from Hungary. The ice that is used in Paris and Marseilles is brought from the glaciers of the Alps, near the Rhine, above the Lake of Geneva. The oats that feed the traveler's horse in the Alps, are brought from Hungary, and his bread is made from wheat grown in California.—Why, with your climate and soil, and railroad connections can you not supply the cities of the North with grapes, wine and vegetables? Land that here is worth $2,000 an acre is cultivated in grapes and a new-made wine is sold for 30 cents a gallon. I have yet to see the traveler who makes his dinner without his bottle of wine. I have yet to see, except on one occasion, a drunken man, and that was not really in a grape district. Millions of barrels of wine will not supply the demand for wine in America, if we can make it cheap.

Our route now lies through Southern Germany, Hungary, and thence to Italy. We will be happy to write you again, provided you write to us and let us know that our letters are acceptable.

THE EXERCISES OF THIS INSTITUTION will be resumed on Monday, the 4th of January next, under the direction of Miss MARGARET E. MITCHELL, as Principal, aided by Mrs. E. N. GRANT, and other competent instructors.
It is the determination of the Trustees and Principal that this shall be a School of the best grade.
No other guaranty of its character will be asked by those who know Miss Mitchell and Mrs. Grant. But the Trustees deem it right to state that these ladies are daughters of the late Professor Mitchell, of Chapel Hill, and were educated by their father with a view to the profession of teaching; and that they combine, with unusual attainments, a happy faculty for imparting instruction, and a thorough devotion to the business, which they have prosecuted with success for some years.
The undersigned, on behalf of the Principal, will furnish circulars stating terms, &c., on application.

Horse Stolen or Strayed,

FROM MY STABLE, in Asheville, on last Saturday night, 21st, or early Sunday morning, 22d.
DESCRIPTION.
He is between six and seven years old, about 15 hands high, light sorrel color, thin mane, the hair on the end of his tail has been cut off, making it shorter than natural, the hoof of one hind foot is cracked, and one of his front hoofs has a notch in it, showing the shoe; he has a star in the forehead, a white spot on his head, on the right side, which the head-stall covers; the hair has been rubbed from the underside of his jaw, on one side; he has been newly shod, and the hair lately cut from his fetlocks. He is a fast walker, paces and lopes under the saddle. A nearly new black leather halter, a much worn black horse blanket, lined with brown and red cloth, were on him, and went with him.
Any one returning the horse to me, or informing where he can be found, will be liberally rewarded, and any information as to the direction he has gone will be thankfully received.

ÆTNA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY has paid another loss. Read the following:
$3.000.
WILMINGTON, Sept. 16th, 1868.
Received of the Ætna Life Insurance Company, by the hands of W. H. Crow, General Agent, Three thousand dollars, in full payment of all demands upon the Life Policy of my deceased husband, Larkin F. Bunn. No. of said Policy 48,749.
With many thanks for this prompt payment in the hour of my affliction and need,
I am, respectfully,
HESTER A. BUNN.
Added to the above, may be mentioned another fact, proving the wisdom and beneficial results of Life Insurance, and also the fidelity and good faith in which this old and well tried Company deals with its members.
In less than three years this Company has done more than all others combined, to relieve the wants of the widows and orphans of North Carolina.

It has paid Policy, No.	15,273	$5.000
" "	10,818	5.000
" "	18,607	5.000

THE SENTINEL.

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1868.

TO THE PUBLIC.

I have purchased "The Sentinel," and to day take control of its editorial columns and business department. It will be published, as heretofore, Daily, Semi Weekly and Weekly, and, by the terms of the contract of purchase, sent to the subscribers for the Sentinel, until the terms of subscription paid for expire.

I venture to hope that, by assiduous effort, I shall make such a paper as will commend itself to the confidence, patronage and good will of a generous and patriotic people. No reasonable effort shall be spared to inculcate sound political doctrines, encourage and dignify honest industry, educate the popular mind, liberalize and nationalize public sentiment, develope the resources of the country, foster the arts and sciences, and furnish promptly the reliable news of the day.

From my youth up, I have been educated in the school of Conservatism, and learned to love, venerate and cherish those principles of free government presented to the world by the illustrious WASHINGTON and his patriotic compeers, and which they embodied in the Federal Constitution. It shall be my highest aim to promote the re-establishment, on enduring foundations, of those principles. The Constitution ought to be the political chart of every patriot and it shall be mine in the future, as it has been in the past. I shall construe its powers in such liberal spirit as, on the one hand, to secure a national government, possessed of such powers as will protect and defend its rights of sovereignty within its Constitutional sphere; and, in such spirit of strictness as, on the other, to prevent a consolidated despotism, and secure to the several States all their rights of sovereignty and power under that Constitution. Let no one be so sceptical as to suppose that this is impossible. It is not only possible, but highly practicable, and this view must prevail, or the American Union is at an end.—Those who regard a Constitutional Union as mystical and visionary, greatly underrate the sagacity, wisdom and statesmanship of the framers of the Constitution.—That instrument embodies practical principles of free government; it secures nationality in a limited general government; it protects sovereign States in and comprising that general government; and, the more it is examined, the better it is understood, the more manifest this truth becomes. One of the principal aims of this paper will be to simplify and popularize the Constitution and the Union under it, according to the view embraced in this outline.

I recognize, as the principal incidental result of the late civil war, the utter and permanent extinction of negro slavery in this country, and, further, the settlement, adversely by the military power of the general government, of the right of secession.—This right never existed, but tens of thousands of the American people, in the North and in the South, believed that it did, and thousands of them gallantly sealed such belief with their lives and blood. In my judgment, only the right of revolution existed, and that still exists and will continue, as the last remedy against violated right and lawless oppression.

The destruction of the State governments of the several Southern States of the Union was not a legitimate result of the late war; this was the result of lawless revolution, brought about by reckless political fortunists, who seized upon the fury of passion engendered by the war to accomplish their evil purposes. Unhappily for the American people, if not for the world, they allowed their unbridled passions of revenge and hate to destroy their cool judgment and over ride their feelings of magnanimity and patriotism, and that, too, at the sad and dreadful expense of the Constitution of their country. As a result of this terrible and unnecessary revolution, made after the Union had triumphed and in the light of national victory, I recognize the revolutionary reconstruction policy of a factious Congress as accomplished, forced upon the people of this and the other States, by the sword and against their will. I view this forced reconstruction as a necessity, and, therefore, recognize the existing government of this State as the one to be lived under and sustained, also as a sad necessity, until it can be changed by the peaceful means provided by such revolution. Then, without reference to the rightfulness of this State government, the people ought to sustain it, until they can change it—not with the view to undo the revolution and restore the ancient State government, but because the existing revolutionary Constitution is one that does not afford them such security for life, liberty and property as they need and want. It affords no protection for settled labor or property; its judicial system is monstrous, and demoralizing in its tendency, and its workings lead to the impoverishment and degradation of a people heretofore famous for their wholesome laws, a pure and learned judiciary, and the strictest integrity. I shall advocate a Convention of the people of the State, to be called at the earliest practible day.

Towards the negro race I entertain no unkind or hostile feelings. I pity them; they are poor and helpless, and require the protection and help of all good men,—especially, to rescue them from the false and corrupt teachings of a class of white men, who merit the execrations of every patriot in the land. I shall advocate the protection of this people in their rights of person, property and liberty, and the encouragement of them to become industrious, virtuous and intelligent.

Honest industry is the ground work and source of personal and national greatness and wealth, and no people can become highly civilized and prosperous, who fail to economize and nourish all industrial pursuits. Labor, in all the departments of life, should be encouraged and dignified, and, to this end, popular education is indispensable; and, as incident to this, the arts and sciences must be cultivated and brought within the reach of the humblest child in the land.

My political party affinities will be with those who embrace and have embraced the principles compassed by this hasty outline. The issues that marked and made party distinctions in the past have been swallowed up in the great civil war, now approaching a sad and inglorious termination. The dead issues of the past must soon be forgotten in the great living issues of the present and the new political organizations that must and will spring out of the new order of things; and while I have pleasing recollections of past political associations and affinities, I shall go forward to meet the future and the issues it may thrust before us. I shall be ever ready, willing and glad to mark and compliment the good, the virtuous and meritorous; and I shall, regardless of consequences, lash, denounce and hold up to public scorn, contempt and execration, the vile, the mean, the contemptible and cowardly political upstarts and vultures, who may perpetrate outrages upon society and crimes against the right and virtue.

I extend the right hand of good-fellowship and professional courtesy to my editorial friends everywhere, and I trust that nothing may occur to mar the good-will I entertain towards one and all of them.

JOSIAH TURNER, JR.

WE CALL ATTENTION to the presentment made by the Grand Jury, at the last term of the Superior Court of the County of Orange. It is a sad, striking and truthful commentary upon the degenerate Judiciary which now disgraces and curses the State, and a people, who once enjoyed the blessings of, and delighted to honor, the virtues, the learning, the talents, and the incorruptibility of Judges, some of whose names and fame were co extensive with civilization itself. Every reader will recognize at once, as he reads, the truth of many of the facts presented, and every true-hearted North Carolinian will experience a sense of shame and patriotic sorrow, when he reflects that these facts go to make up the history of his State and the times in which he lives. O tempora! O mores!

HOW TO GET UP A REVOLUTION.—In a late letter Mark Twain writes:

"They have a "revolution" in Central America every time the moon changes. All you have to do is to get out in the streets, in Panama or Aspinwall, and give a shout and the work is done. Shout, down with the administration and up with somebody else, and the revolution follows. Nine tenths of the people break for home under the bed."

It is precisely upon the same principle that "new rebellions" are gotten up in the South. They have about as genuine foundation as those that Twain describes. And the scoundrels who fabricate them are as cowardly as the "Central America" revolutionists. Gen. Rousseau thus describes them, as illustrated in the case of one Southworth, of Louisiana:

"I have found that men of this description, though willing to see the blood of others shed at a distance, conceal themselves with marvelous alacrity and skill at the approach of any real or fancied danger. Southworth, who wanted the negroes slaughtered at the polls, is a shinning example of this kind, and was actually in hiding at my headquarters at the time he made the remark I have quoted."

SIGNIFICANT.—It has heretofore been announced that Mr. Robbins, the Senator from Rowan and Davie, one of the Committee, dissented from the location of the Penitentiary at Lockville, and has submitted a minority report, giving his reasons for such dissent. The report urges the selection of a Committee to visit the various Penitentiaries of the country, with a view to obtaining such information as to the requirements of such Institutions as will lead to a more judicious location. The report concludes with the following significant observation:

"This is more necessary to be done, as the undersigned believes, from the fact that, unfortunately, not one of the Joint Committee has ever been inside of a State Penitentiary!"

LEGISLATURE.—In justice to our Reporters we would state that, on account of the pressure upon our columns, to day, we have been compelled to curtail, somewhat, their excellent reports of the interesting proceedings in either House, on yesterday.

The same reason compels us to defer comment upon these proceedings. There are points in them, and persons who figured in them, that claim our notice, and they shall have it. We cannot withhold the expression of our satisfaction that the Senate has set about an inquest, which will smoke out some of the alleged corruption with which the whole atmosphere of rumor teems.

ELECTORAL COLLEGE.—This body meets in this City, to morrow, for the purpose of casting the vote of the State for President and Vice President of the United States. It is understood that the College will informally convene to day, for the purpose of arranging preliminaries.

THE WILMINGTON Star is exercised because, in the House proceedings of Wednesday last, it can only find the name of G. Z French nine times.

Legislature of North Carolina.

SENATE.

MONDAY, NOV. 30, 1868.

The Senate was called to order at 11 o'clock.

BILLS.

By Mr. Robbins: A bill providing for an official declaration of the result of the late election in the several Congressional Districts of the State. Referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections.

By Mr. Rich: A bill authorizing the sale of the State's interests in Railroad, Navigation and Turnpike Companies. Referred to the Committee on Internal Improvements.

By Mr. Sweet: A bill to consolidate the Atlantic and North Carolina and the North Carolina Railroad Companies, to be known as the North Carolina Central Railroad Company. Ordered to be printed and referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

By Mr. Davis: Two bills amendatory to an act to incorporate the Western North Carolina Railroad Company. Ordered to be printed and referred to the Committee on Internal Improvements.

By Mr. Moore, of Carteret: A bill to repeal an act providing for the employment of convicts and the erection of a Penitentiary. Referred to a special Committee of three. The President designated Messrs Moore, Barrow and Graham, as the Committee.

By Mr. Hayes: A bill relating to the Supreme Court. Pitced on Calendar.

By Mr. Martindale: A bill to amend the charter of the Williamston and Tarboro' Railroad Company. Ordered to be printed and referred to the Committee on Internal Improvement.

By Mr. Etheridge: A bill to lay off and establish the county of Dare, composed of portions of Hyde, Tyrell and Currituck.—Referred to the Committee on Propositions and Grievances.

By Mr. Moore, of Carteret: A bill to repeal an act to incorporate the State Loan and Trust Company of North Carolina.—Referred to the Committee on Propositions and Grievances.

By Mr. Love: A bill to incorpate Eureka Lodge in the town of Webster. Referred to the Committee on Corporations.

By Mr. Moore, of Yancy: A bill to incorporate Brownsville Lodge, in the town of Brownsville. Referred to the Committee on Corporations.

By Mr. Davis: A resolution proposing a recess from Saturday, the 19th of December, to Monday, the 4th of Jan. '69. After some discussion, on motion of A. H. Galloway, (colored) it was voted down, by a vote of 21 ayes to 19 nays.

By Mr. Sweet: A resolution in favor of Isaiah Hardie, (colored,) for services rendered in the Senate Chamber, as laborer, for 8 days, at $2,50 per day, $20. Referred to the Committee on Claims.

By Mr. Sweet: A resolution proposing to raise a Joint Committee to investigate certain alleged charges in reference to the appropriation of last session to the Chatham Railroad.

Mr. Robbins offered the following as a substitute for Mr. Sweet's resolution, which was accepted:

Whereas, Rumors are becoming current in various quarters, and are finding their way into the public prints, that members of this General Assembly, and others in positions of trust in the State Government, have been guilty of corrupt practices, such as buying blank-mail, accepting bribes, and using and receiving money, as a consideration for votes or influence in favor of certain measures involving large appropriations of money by this General Assembly,—particularly the appropriation to the Chatham Railroad, at the last session, and

Whereas, It is due to the [illegible] months of late, that if it is desired to have anything passed through this General Assembly, in which money is involved, money must be paid for it; and

Whereas, Our honor, as well as the good name of North Carolina, heretofore unimpeached, are concerned in this matter:

Therefore the General Assembly of North Carolina do resolve: That a Joint Committee of investigation, composed of three members of the Senate and five members of the House of Representatives, to be designated by the respective presiding officers of the two Houses, be at once constituted, whose duty it shall be to institute forthwith a searching inquest in reference to the truth of the aforesaid rumors and charges; and, particularly, those touching the corruption alleged to be connected with the passage of the appropriation to the Chatham Rail Road at the last session.

2nd. That said Committee shall have power, and it shall be their duty, to send for persons and papers, to administer oaths, either through their chairman or acting chairman, to examine witnesses, and to make report, at the earliest possible day, to this General Assembly, of the guilty parties, if any be found, together with the facts and the evidence in writing, by which these facts are sustained.

3rd. That if any person, brought before said Committee, shall refuse to testify concerning any matter relevant to this investigation, he shall be forthwith brought before the bar of one of the two Houses, that he may be committed for contempt; and if any person shall, in the course of his examination as a witness by said Committee, take any false oath or testify falsely in any particular respecting the matters which may be relevant to this investigation, such person shall be liable to indictment as a perjurer, and, upon conviction thereof, shall suffer all the pains and penalties of wilful and corrupt perjury.

4th. That said inquest and investigation shall extend not only to members of this General Assembly, but to every other officer of the Government, or any other individual whatsoever, who may be alleged to be in any way connected with the giving or receiving of bribes in money or other valuable consideration, for the purpose of securing votes or influence in favor of any measure of this General Assembly, involving appropriations of money or bonds, or loaning the credit of the State to any company or corporation whatever, and especially to the Chatham Railroad Company, at the last session of this General Assembly.

5th. That each and every member of said investigation Committee shall, before entering upon the duties thereof, be required to take an oath, before the presiding officer of the House of which he is a member, to conduct the aforesaid inquest faithfully, and without fear, favor or affection, towards any person whatever, to the end that the truth of this matter may be well ascertained, the guilty, if any, punished, and the good name of the innocent be vindicated.

6. That a majority of said Committee shall be invested with all the powers herein conferred on the whole, and the action of the majority shall be, in all respects, as valid and binding as that of the entire Committee.

Mr. Jones, of Wake, said that it was well known that he had taken an active part in securing the appropriation to the Chatham Railroad, and he thought he knew as much about the matter as any member on the floor, and he thought the charges in the resolutions were of a grave character.—They say that Senators or members have been bribed to secure their votes. If the resolution was intended for him, it was a foul slander on his character.

Mr. Robbins said the Senator from Wake misunderstood the resolutions. They were intended to defend and not to attack him. The resolutions make no charges. They are made outside, on the streets, and through the public prints. The resolutions were friendly to every member of the General Assembly. If he knew of any dishonest act, or the taking of a bribe by any member, he would not hesitate to say so, it mattered not who it might hit, and gentlemen who are mostly interested in this matter should be the first to desire an investigation.

Mr. Barrow asked who are making such charges?

Mr. Sweet said if the Senator from Rowan will permit me to do so, I will reply to the Senator from Northampton. While I have not made myself industrious in the circulation of charges of corruption against members of the General Assembly, I will not take the responsibility, as my place in the Senate, of pledging my word and honor, as a gentleman and a Senator, that I am able to prove conclusively that votes of members WERE BOUGHT, during the last session of our General Assembly, FOR DOLLARS AND CENTS.

Mr. Robbins said that he was glad the Senator from Craven had taken such a noble stand, and he honored him for it. If any member of this body has accepted a bribe, let him be brought to the bar of the House and expelled; and, while up, he would like to notice a reflection made on the Democratic party in an article in the Standard, headed "Emigration," in relation to the word "Carpet Bagger." He desired to state authoritatively, as understood and intended to be understood, the meaning of that word by the Democratic party. It has no allusion, nor is it applied, to any Northern man, who came here among us to make this his permanent home, but the carpet-bagger is a bird of passage, who lights down to pick up what he can and flies away to repeat the game in another locality. He is the vampire, who has come among us to suck the blood of our beloved State. We welcome men from everywhere, who are honest and intend to make this their permanent home and whose interests will become identified with the interests of our people.

Mr. Jones, of Wake, said that he was glad that the discussion on this question had given more light, and he was in favor of the resolution; but if it had been based upon what had been charged in the Sentinel, there was no ground for it. That paper had stigmatized every Northern man in this body and in the State as a Carpet-Bagger. Not even the Senator from Craven had escaped being so stigmatized by that paper.

The question recurring on the passage of the resolution, the Ayes and Nays were called and it passed unanimously.

On motion, the Senate adjourned until to-morrow at 11 o'clock.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

MONDAY, NOV. 30, 1868.

Mr. Welch arose to a question of privilege. In the Standard report of the discussion on Saturday last, when the bill to amend the charter of the Judson Female College was up, he was reported as being opposed to its passage, simply on the ground that it prohibited the drinking of whiskey. Now he had rather no report at all had been made, or that the discussion had been given in full. He had contended that the Institution was only in process of construction in one half of the town of Hendersonville, and a law prohibiting the sale of liquor on that account he believed to be subversive of the constitutional rights, privileges and franchises of the people of that town. This was his only reason of objection to the amendment, and he made this statement only to set himself right before the people of Cat a cline.

Mr. Sinclair, with the motion of J. H. Harris, of Wake, (colored,) raising a special Committee of three to whom shall be referred his bill renewing the charter of the City of Raleigh, the Chair appointed:—Harris, of Wake, Wiswall and Gibson.

Mr. Estes, from the Committee on Finance, reported unfavorably upon the bill regulating the sale of State Bonds by Rail Road Companies. The bill was placed on the Calendar.

Mr. Sinclair gave notice that he would introduce a resolution empowering the Governor to remove his appointees as magistrates.

BILLS.

By Mr. Vest: A bill to repeal Sec. 68, Code of Civil Procedure. Referred.

By Mr. Candler: A bill to repeal the act restoring to married women their common law right of dower. Referred.

By Mr Reynolds: A bill to repeal so much of Chapter 107, Revised Code, as refers to slaves and free negroes. Referred.

CALENDAR.

House bill No. 41, to amend the Charter of the Coalfields and Cheraw Railroad, passed its third reading and was ordered to be engrossed.

The bill to amend an act, entitled an act in relation to punishments, (introduced by Mr. Stilley,) was taken up and passed its third reading.

The bill regulating the sale of State bonds by Railroad companies was taken up, when

Mr. Downing moved to indefinitely postpone,

Mr. Pou called for the yeas and nays. The call was not sustained and Mr. Downing's motion was adopted.

Mr. French moved to raise a Committee on Immigration consisting of five. Carried.

SPECIAL ORDER, VIZ:

The bill to incorporate the North Carolina Dental Association, introduced by Mr. French.

Mr. Estes moved to amend by adding to sec. 11 a proviso, that this bill shall not be so construed as to prevent a practicing physician from extracting teeth.

Mr. French accepted the amendment.

After some little discussion, the bill was, on motion of J. H. Harris, of Wake, colored, postponed until to-day week.

J. S. Leary's (colored) resolution, instructing our Representatives in the next Congress to seek to have political disabilities removed from all the citizens of the State was next reached.

B. W. Morris, (colored) said Congress understood their business well enough, without petitions from this body; therefore, he thought the resolution was entirely out of order. He moved to indefinitely postpone it.

Mr. Durham called for the yeas and nays. The call was sustained and resulted, yeas 45, nays 48.

Mr. Hoetnett said, in the words of Gen. Grant, for whom he had the utmost respect, "Let us have peace." Now a large portion of the people have, through the influence of politicians, been made to believe that a large class were dissatisfied with the present state of things, to the degree that they would, if in their power, inaugerate another war. This was a string continually picked upon during the late canvass. And every fair minded man knows that this war-issue was as false as it was in reality foolish. There were but two issues really before the people: one, to keep a portion of our fellow-citizens in a state of disfranchisement; the other, manhood suffrage.—The people have declared that manhood suffrage shall be an element of our government. He accepted the issue in good faith, but he could not satisfy his convictions of either justice or good policy, in continuing the working of the 14th article. It has taken away from the best Union men their rights of citizenship,—men whose hearts have beat in sympathy with the cause of the Union and Constitution, from the first gun at Charleston to the last one at Appomattox Court House. Mr. Hodnett continued, at some length, ably to advocate the resolution.

Mr. Sinclair said there was a peculiar propriety in this Legislature's inaugurating a measure of this character, at this time. It is well known that this body is controlled by the Republican party, and for the next four years, this party will control the government of the State—yes, and the government which is to control the destinies of this great Continent. The illustrious personage, who has just been elected to the Executive chair of this nation, has inscribed, in characters of light, the policy which he intends to pursue. It is peace.—This was the motto that carried his banner triumphantly among the masses of the people. The people want peace, and they will have it. No measure that can be introduced into this body is so well calculated to bring it as the one before the House now,—North Carolina is reconstructed, and reconstructed better, because on a higher and nobler basis, than any of her sister States in the South; and if we would complete the work and restore fraternal concord among all classes, then let this resolution pass, &c.

Mr. Justice offered a substitute, asking Congress to remove the disabilities of all citizens, who had never denied the constitutional right of Congress to pardon persons who had engaged in the rebellion.—He said, in substance, that there were men who had denounced the Congress as a set of usurpers, &c.

B. W. Morris, colored, took the floor in opposition to the resolution.

Mr. French was opposed to the resolution in this shape. It was too general, &c.

Jas. H. Harris, of Wake, (colored,) opposed the measure, and moved its reference to a Special Committee of 8.

Mr. Estes moved to lay the whole matter on the table, and, upon that motion, called for the yeas and nays. The call was sustained and resulted in the following ballot:

AYES—Messrs. Ashworth, Banner, Barnes, Blair, Candler, Carson, Cherry, col., Estes, Forkner, col., Franklin, Gahagan, Graham, Harris, of Wake, col., Hayes, colored, Hendricks, Hodgin, Horney, Hudgings, Justus, of Henderson, Justice, of Rutherford, Kelly, of Moore, Kinney, Mayo, colored, McCanless, Moring, Morrill, Morris, colored, Peck, Proctor, Rea, Renfrow, Robbins, colored, Reynolds, Siegrist, Simonds, Stilley, Vest, White and Wilson—39.

NAYS—Messrs. Allison, Argo, Armstrong, Barnett, Boddie, Bowman, Carey, colored, Cawthorn, colored, Clayton, of Transylvania, Davidson, Dixon, Durham, Ellington, Farrow, Perebee, Foster, French, Gatling, Gibson, Gilbert, Grier, Hawkins, Hicks, High, Hinnant, Hodnett, Hoffman, Humphries, Ingram, Jarvis, Kelly, of Davie, Leary, colored, Long, of Chatham, Long, of Richmond, Malone, Matheson, McMillan, Mendenhall, Moore, Nicholson, Painter, Parker, Pou, Proffiet, Ragland, Robinson, Shaver, Short, Sinclair, Smith, of Alleghany, Snipes, Stanton, Sweat, colored, Thompson, Vestal, Welch, Williams, of Sampson, and Wiswall—37.

J. S. Leary, (colored,) said he had been actuated by the purest motives in introducing this measure, believing that, if what is contemplated in the resolution should be consummated, they should have what is their present boast—a Republican government in North Carolina. He believed in Republican governments, not only in form but in truth. The Convention, which assembled in this hall, under the requirements of the Reconstruction acts, did not, in framing the Constitution, disfranchise any one. They had a right to do so, but, being true to their professions of Republicanism, they did not do it.

The people have testified their appreciation of the labors of that body by ratifying that Constitution by 20,000 majority. He could not see why this body could not pass a measure which only contended that all should enjoy the rights and privileges that all really Republican governments give to their citizens, without distinction.

Wm. Cawthorn, (colored,) said he agreed with the Representative from Cumberland [Leary] and should support the resolution.

Mr. Pou opposed the motion to refer.

Mr. Stilley opposed the motion to refer. He wished a direct vote to be taken. He warned the Republican party against the passage of such a measure.

Mr. Ingram said he saw now the plant of good feeling springing up and he for one wished to cultivate it. He disliked to see this vindictive spirit exhibited. He was opposed to such a narrow-minded and oppressive policy as some of the Republican party on this floor wished to pursue. He would vote for the resolution.

Mr. Bowman was in favor of the motion to refer. He wanted time to consider the matter. He wanted to see how this new editor, this "trenchant blade," was going to cut!!!

J. H. Harris, of Wake, colored, called the previous question on his motion to refer to a Special Committee of five.

The call was sustained and the motion to refer prevailed.

By consent, Mr. Justice, of Rutherford, offered a resolution that the House take a recess from the 21st of December to the 4th of January.

On motion, the House then adjourned until to-morrow morning, 11 o'clock.

NEW ARRANGEMENT.

The RALEIGH SENTINEL having passed under the Editorial management of the undersigned, it will, from the present date, be conducted by him.

It will be the zealous and fearless advocate of the CONSTITUTION of the United States, seeking to bring the people back to their ancient reverence for that immortal instrument, and to restore the policy of the country to that honored standard, as the only guarantee of National prosperity.

It will do justice to the men and measures of the present day, whenever they may merit it, but it will unsparingly lash and denounce all who set themselves up in opposition to the Federal Constitution, and hold up to the public indignation corruption and imbecility in high places.

It will ardently seek the promotion of the best interests of North Carolina,—moral, educational, material and political.

THE LATEST NEWS

From every quarter, both by mail and telegraph, will be carefully collated and presented.

Full and correct market and financial reports will be given.

And, in one word, no effort will be spared to make the SENTINEL, in all respects, a reliable

MISCELLANEOUS.

To the People of the Southern States.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3, 1868.

When the pure medicinal restorative, now so widely known as Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps, was introduced into the world under the endorsement of four thousand leading, members of the medical profession some 20 years ago its proprietor was well aware that it could not wholly escape the penalty attached to all new and meritorious preparations. He, therefore, endeavored to invest it with strongest possible safeguard against counterfeiters, and to render all attempts to imitate it difficult and dangerous. It was submitted to distinguished chemists for analysis, and pronounced by them the purest spirit ever manufactured. Its purity and properties having been thus ascertained, samples of the article were forwarded to ten thousand physicians, including all the leading practitioners in the United States, for purposes of experiment. A circular, requesting a trial of the preparation and a report of the result, accompanied each specimen. Four thousand of the most eminent medical men in the Union promptly responded. Their opinions of the article were unanimously favorable. Such a preparation, they said, had long been wanted by the profession as no reliance could be placed on the ordinary liquors of commerce, all of which were more or less adulterated, and therefore unfit for medicinal purposes. The peculiar excellence and strength of the oil of juniper, which forms one of the principal ingredients of the Schnapps, together with its unalloyed character of the alcohol employed, give it, in the estimation of the faculty, a marked superiority over every other diuretic, tonic and restorative.

These satisfactory credentials from professional men of the highest rank were published in a condensed form and enclosed with each bottle of the Schnapps as one of the guarantees of its genuineness. Other precautions against fraud were also adopted; a patent was obtained for the article, the label was copyrighted, a fac simile of the proprietor's autograph signature was attached to each label and cover, his name and that of the preparation were embossed on the bottles, and the corks were sealed with his private seal. No article has ever been sold in this country under the name of schnapps prior to the introduction of Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps, in 1851; and the label was deposited, as his trade mark, in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York during that year.

It might be supposed by persons unacquainted with the daring character of the pirates who prey upon the reputation of honorable merchants by vending deleterious trash under their name, that the protections so carefully thrown around these schnapps would have precluded the possibilities and sale of counterfeits. They were, however only to have stimulated the rapacity of impostors. The trade mark of the proprietor has been stolen; the government which his Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps alone received from the medical profession has been claimed by nefarious numbugs; his labels and bottles have been pirated, his advertisements paraphrased, his circulars copied, and worse than all, dishonorable retailers, after disposing of the genuine contents of his bottles, have filled them up with common gin, the most deleterious of all liquors, and thus made his name and brand a cover for poison.

The public, the medical profession and the sick for whom the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps is prescribed as a remedy, are equally interested with the proprietor in the detection and suppression of these nefarious practices. The genuine article, manufactured at the establishment of the undersigned in Schiedam, Holland, is distilled from a variety of the finest quality, and flavored with an essential extract of the berry of the Italian juniper, of unequaled purity. By a process unknown in the preparation of any other liquor, it is freed from every acrimonious and corrosive element.

Complaints have been received from the leading physicians and families in the Southern States of the sale of cheap imitations of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps in those markets; and travellers, who are in the habit of using it as an antidote to the baneful influence of unwholesome river water, testify that cheap gin, put up in Schiedam bottles, is frequently palmed off upon the unwary. The agents of the undersigned have been requested to institute inquiries on the subject, and to forward to him the names of such parties as they may ascertain to be engaged in the atrocious system of deception. In connection, the undersigned would say that he has produced, from under the hands of the most distinguished men of science in America, proofs associative of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps; that he has expended many thousand dollars in surrounding it with guarantees and safe-guards, which he designed effectual protection to the public and himself against fraudulent imitations; that he has shown it to be the only liquor in the world that can be uniformly depended upon as unadulterated; that he has challenged investigation, analysis, comparison and experiment in all its forms; and, from every ordeal the preparation which bears his name, seal and trademark, has come off triumphant. He therefore feels it a duty he owes to himself, to citizens generally, to the medical profession and the sick, to denounce and to expose the charlatans who counterfeit these evidences of identity and he calls upon the press and the public to aid him in his efforts to remedy so great an evil.

The following letters and certificates from the leading physicians and chemists of this city will prove to the reader that all goods sold by the undersigned are all they are represented to be.

UDOLPHO WOLFE.

I feel bound to say that I regard your Schnapps as being in every respect pre-eminently pure, and deserving of medical patronage. At all events, it is the purest possible article of Holland Gin, heretofore unobtainable, and, as such, may be safely prescribed by physicians.

26 PINE STREET, NEW YORK, Nov 21, 1867.

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq., Present:

DEAR SIR:—I have made a chemical examination of a sample of your Schiedam Schnapps, with the intent of determining if any foreign or injurious substance had been added to the simple distilled spirits.

The examination has resulted in the conclusion that the schnapps contained no poisonous or harmful admixture. I have been unable to discover any trace of the deleterious substances which are employed in the adulteration of liquors. I would not hesitate to use myself or to recommend to others, for medical purposes, the Schiedam Schnapps as an excellent and unobjectionable variety of Gin.

Very respectfully yours,
(Signed,) CHAS. A. SEELY, Chemist.

NEW YORK 53 CEDAR STREET, November 26, 1867.

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq., Present:

DEAR SIR:—I have submitted to chemical analysis two bottles of "Schiedam Schnapps," which I took from a fresh package in your bonded warehouse, and find, as before, that the spirituous liquor is free from injurious ingredients or falsification: that it has the marks of being aged and not recently prepared by mechanical admixture of alcohol and aromatics.

Respectfully,
FRED. F. MAYER, Chemist.

NEW YORK, Tuesday, May 1.

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq.:—

DEAR SIR:—The want of pure Wines and Liquors for medical purposes has been long felt by the profession, and thousands of lives have been sacrificed to the use of adulterated articles. Delirium tremens, and other diseases of the brain and nerves, so rife in this country, are very rare in Europe, owing, in a great degree, to the difference in the purity of the spirits sold.

We have tested the several articles imported and sold by you, including your Gin, which you sell under the name of Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps, which we consider justly entitled to the high reputation it has acquired in this country; and from your long experience as a foreign importer, your Bottled Wines and Liquors should meet with the same demand.

We would recommend you to appoint some of the respectable apothecaries in different parts of the city as agents for the sale of your Brandies and Wines, where the profession can obtain the same when needed for medicinal purposes.

Wishing you success in your new enterprise,

We remain your obedient servants,

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1868.

THE LOCALS. SALUTATORY.

We expected, being a stranger to the public, that the Editor would introduce us. He has failed to do so, and we must introduce ourself as the Local for this paper.

We shall not arrogate to ourself what we are not able to perform. We shall promise truth in what we report. The State officials are so engrossed with State affairs, that they neglect their own. We shall look after them. If Judge Cantwell should relapse into session, we will report him to the Governor. We shall show how the Colonel Judge was converted by the power of Gideon's sword. If General Byron Laflin, of New York, by way of Pitt county, and who is Governor Holden's State proxy for the N. C. R. R, lends his free pass to man or woman, we shall report him. We should talk of the past. If we were not afraid of Quaker Joseph, we would offer proof that his father William, the Governor, was a secessionist, and did sign the ordinance of secession; but Joseph has, in advance, said that the man who calls his father a secessionist is a "coward, libeller and liar," and we remember he fought old Mr. Helper at the table for talking about the Governor.

We shall not report every day, but only when we feel like it. We have engagements away from Raleigh for the present. We don't flatter the people. We have seen them in error so often, that we have lost faith in their infallibility. We shall leave the Editor to talk about the Constitution. We think such talk is not worth the ammunition. It is firing on dead game. Our citizens have not lived under the Constitution these eight years. If they have, it is high time they had changed their base, for, we say, God pity and help such living as we have had during that interesting period!

Loyalty, and the men who profess it, will be our theme. We are at a loss for a motto and device. One friend suggests: "Oh! Liberty, how many crimes are committed in thy name!"—(paraphrastically rendered to suit the times,)—"Oh! Loyalty, how many scalities are attempted to be hid under thy tattered cloak!"

But, now, having said this much, let me say, in propria persona, good-bye until Friday next, and write myself, as I am, your humble servant,

WILLIAM TURNER.

TO EDITORS of newspapers and literary journals we extend the right hand of fellowship and amity, proffering to all an exchange of civilities, and, to such as may desire it, an exchange of papers.

BEAUTIES OF RECONSTRUCTION

FRUITS OF RADICAL RULE!

Presentment of the Grand Jury of Orange!

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, }
ORANGE COUNTY. }

SUPERIOR COURT OF LAW, FALL TERM, 1868.

To the Honorable A. W. Tourgee, Judge Presiding:

The Grand Jury for the County of Orange, called from the body of the people, as custodians and conservators of the public peace and security, are gratified to be able to report, that good order and security prevail throughout the County.

They congratulate the Court and the country, that the unconstitutional and oppressive military tribunals, under which the country has so long suffered, and the rights of the people so long languished, have been removed, and the people are at last remitted to their guaranteed rights under the Constitution,—prominent among which are, freedom of speech, freedom of the press, the right to bear arms, the great writ of civil liberty, the habeas corpus, and the right to be heard in open Court, to prosecute or defend, before a sworn Jury of their peers and under the instruction of Judges who should be learned in the law, sworn to do right, and responsible for any malfeasance in office; all of which have been denied them for three years. But while there is much to call for congratulation, there is much which, in the judgment of this Grand Jury, calls for severe animadversion.

1st. We present Lieut. Crockett, of the United States army, who, stationed among us as a Bureau officer, was guilty of high crimes and misdemeanors, as well as acts of despotism, which Congress itself could not justify. Among his crimes, was allowing two felons, Wesley and Lorenzo Watson, to escape from jail upon paying him $50 and a gold watch. Among his acts of despotism was his arrest of Chief Justice Ruffin, an old servant of the people and the State, one who, for half a century, has rendered valuable services to both. This venerable patriarch and jurist (whose judicial opinions have been quoted and relied upon in every State in the Union, and even in England,) was, in the 82d year of his age, summoned to appear before the government of the United States, in the person of Lieut. Crockett, of the 29th Ohio Regiment.

Isaac Ruffin, a freedman, complained to Crockett, that the Chief Justice had not paid him for services rendered. A writ or summons is placed in the hands of the freedman, commanding the Chief Justice, living in the county of Alamance, to appear in the county of Orange, to answer the complaint. The writ, instead of being served by the Sheriff or Marshall, was served by the freedman, entering the parlor of the Judge with a pistol in his bosom and executing the process. The Chief Justice attended and non-suited the freedman, even before Crockett, by showing that he had been fully paid. Nor was this all:

Chief Justice Ruffin was again summoned by another bureau officer to appear in the town of Greensboro, to answer a like complaint made at that temple of Justice. He attended and non-suited the complainant, but recovered no costs in either suit. The Bureau threatened to tie up the complainant by the thumbs for his false claims, and there ended the matter with the Chief Justice.

But it just began with William Faucett, one of our neighbors. Lieut Crockett ordered him to give up to Antony Faucett, a freedman, a threshing machine and two cows, and threatened to arrest and send him to Raleigh unless the order was obeyed,—and all before he had heard but one side of the question.

William Woods, another neighbor, was ordered by said Crockett of the Bureau to give up his son, a boy of ten years of age, to Mrs. Betsey Brown.

These things being done in the name of Congress and the United States, the Grand Jury do present Crockett, Congress and the United States for these crimes against civil liberty and the Constitution.

2nd. We present, as dangerous to liberty, all secret political organizations, whether known as Loyal Leagues, Ku-Klux-Klans, Red Strings, Heroes of America, or by whatever name they may be known, or for what ever purpose they were organized.

3rd. The Grand Jury do further present an editorial article in the Daily Standard, of the 19th of September last, entitled "Work," and a certain printed address signed by 88 members of the Legislature, including the Lieut-Governor and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and extensively circulated among the people of the State, and said to have been written by Judge Reade, of the Supreme Court, as infamous productions, calculated to incite to rape, rapine, plunder, murder and arson, on such a scale as the mind recoils from with horror inexpressible. And the Grand Jury have to deplore that already, in a neighbouring county, as they have been informed, and as a direct consequence of the suggestions contained in those and similar documents, acts of violence, even to the barbarous cutting off of men's ears, have been perpetrated in retaliation upon the ignorant and deluded blacks who have but carried those suggestions into effect.

The Grand Jury deprecate and sternly denounce all such acts of violence, but, while they do so, they feel a profound sympathy for the betrayed and ignorant sufferers, in that they have been made, and will be left, to suffer, while the guilty authors and circulators of those infamous teachings will escape the just punishment of their crimes and occupy high places of honor and trust in the government of the State.

The Grand Jury saw, with grave concern, the introduction of a bill in the last Legislature, called the "Armed Police," (the title of which, but not the substance of the bill, was changed,) and the act now stands upon the Statute Book, by which a body of volunteer militia, indefinite in numbers, and not required to be of the citizens of the State, nor to be officered by citizens, and a detailed militia, can be selected by the Governor from the masses of the people, to the peril of their liberties and the great increase of their taxes. The passage of such acts by the British Parliament would bring every man in England to his feet, gun in hand. Such acts have been condemned by the English people and by the British Judiciary, long ago.

In the reign of William 3rd., a military commander called on Chief Justice Holt to send a Constable, with his soldiers, to prevent a mob from tearing down a house. "What will you do," said the Chief Justice, "if the people will not obey your orders, but tear down the house?" "We will fire into them!" was the reply. "If you do," said the Judge, "and any man is killed, I will see that your soldiers are hanged. The laws of this kingdom are not to be executed by the sword. These matters belong to the civil power and you have nothing to do with them."

In the opinion of this Grand Jury such sentiments should animate our Governor, our Judges and our Legislature. The civil arm is sufficient for the execution of the laws and the preservation of the peace in North Carolina.

To checkmate this military and dangerous mode of executing the laws in Orange, with the sword, an organization was formed at Cedar Grove, composed of the most orderly citizens of the county, who pledged themselves to aid in the execution of the civil law, whenever it was resisted in the county of Orange; and, at the same time, to forbid the Governor's armed police or militia putting their hands or swords upon a citizen, at the risk of having their guns taken from them by unarmed men. We are glad to say the armed police or militia for executing the law has not been formed in Orange, nor has the unarmed company been called for.

The Grand Jury do further present, only to repel with the indignation it deserves, the charges made by the Governor to one Nelson A. Miles, that the white men in North Carolina are secretly accumulating arms, for the purposes of insurrection and rebellion. No evidence has been offered to establish the charge, and this Grand Jury, drawn from the body of the people, and coming from all portions of the county, knowing it to be false as to this county, believe it to be false as to all; and that it has sprung only from malevolence and for political effect in the late elections.

4th. The Grand Jury do present Judge Pearson's letter as falsifying the truth of history, treacherous and hypocritical in its designs and altogether unworthy a Judge. If the Judge really believed there was danger of "civil war," as he pretends, then he should have had the parties preparing to make war arrested and bound to the peace; and, finally,

5th. This Grand Jury do present, and truthfully represent to your Honor, a stranger to them, and to the county, as well as to the judicial history of North Carolina, that the people of North Carolina, especially of the county of Orange, have ever cherished and maintained an habitual regard and reverence for the Judiciary of the State. The people of Orange have had for neighbors, personal friends and associates such Judges as Murphy, Norwood, Cameron, Nash, Maugum, Ruffin, Manly, Battle and Baily. As men and neighbors, they are remembered by the people of Orange with the fondest affection. We have named these Judges, because they were our companions, neighbors and friends. The people of the State did not allow the people of Orange to go before them in love, admiration and respect for the whole Judiciary—the whole and every member of it.—The high character of the Judiciery of North Carolina, as exemplified in the lives of Moore, Haywood, Henderson, Taylor, Gaston, Caldwell, Daniel, Badger, Saunders, Seawell, Settle, Strange, Barton, Toomer, Person, Osborne, Donnell, Barnes, Warren, Ellis, Fowle, Gilliam, Merrimon, Dick, as well as the illustrious names before mentioned, was well calculated to fill and inspire the people with confidence and love for the Judge and high respect for the office.

The Grand Jury regret to see the present Judiciary so utterly unmindful of the example of their illustrious predecessors, and especially, in these days of political chaos and social upheaving, to see the Bench descending to the hustings, bandying vituperation and personal abuse with the Bar and with pot-house politicians—each the assailant and in turn assailed; the Bench charging the Bar with larceny, forgery and mule-stealing; the Bar retorting that the Bench had been cussed by a negro upon a debt justly due, and forced, by this harsh process of the law, to pay the money, after being called out and forfeiting his bail! The Bar also charging that the Bench was a jail-bird and a convict from the Penitentiary of Ohio! All this very naturally ending in a fight, between the Bench and a member of the Bar, as the former journeyed on his way to Court! This breach of the peace between the Bench and the Bar, occurring on the train and in the ladies' car, and so much to their terror and alarm, that the Conductor threatened to put the Bench and the Bar off the train, notwithstanding the Bar loudly proclaimed himself a Director of the Road!

These things are well calculated to bring both the Bench and the Bar into disrepute and to degrade them in the estimation of the people. The Bar should be the seat of all that is knightly, chivalrous and true; the Bench the abode of justice, dignity, integrity and calm deliberation; both should be above suspicion.

Let the fountains of justice be poisoned, and the waters that flow therefrom will be bitter as the waters of Marah to all who drink of the poisoned stream.

The Grand Jury do present each and every one of the Judges, who have taken open and active part on the hustings, to-wit: Chief Justice Pearson, and his Associates, Justices Reade, Dick, Settle and Rodman; and the Circuit Court Judges, to-wit: Judges Cloud, Jones, Watts, Henry, Ressell, Pool, Thomas, Logan, Cannon and your Honor, as guilty of conduct unbecoming the Judiciary—always saving and excepting Judge Mitchell; and, instead of presenting, they do thank and commend, him for his political silence and noble bearing as a just and upright Judge.

And the Grand Jury do unanimously and respectfully ask of your Honor, that, as a part of the history of the times, and that posterity and the Judges may know what this Grand Jury think of political Judges, this paper writing be spread in full upon the minutes of the Court.

A "GRECIAN BEND" AS SEEN IN BOSTON.—The editor of the Plymouth Rock was in Boston last week, and while passing up Winter Street saw veritable "Grecian bend," which he thus describes:

The frame or figure upon which the superstructure was fastened was apparently designed for a woman, though excepting the height, the face, and the ordinary substitute for a bonnet, there was nothing to indicate the form by which God illustrates female beauty and loveliness. The dress worn was of a brown poplin, profusely trimmed with magenta trimming, and this was spread over a something very much the shape of a charcoal maker's "raking-in-basket," which, being inverted, seemed to have been fastened to the back of the person above the hips. As a counterbalance the figure had in her bosom apparently two halves of a large sized Valparaiso squash, and, with a pair of boot heels some three inches high, and her arms poised so as to keep herself from toppling over, this female caricature was trying to get over the sidewalk, working one side at a time, and holding the headway by her heels, which seemed to drop into the bricks very much like the pell or catch-drop in a vessel's capstan. We elbowed our way through the curious crowd to get in front of this gradually moving figure, expecting to see her shedding tears of bitter anguish for having such punishment inflicted upon her, but instead we found her with a self satisfied air such as is ordinarily worn by shallow-brained women. Who the creature was or what she had done to deserve such a punishment we were unable to learn, any further than this was a "Grecian bend," or a bender.

FROM WASHINGTON—GEN. GRANT'S REPORT, &C.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30, M.

The following official report of Gen. Grant is published:

"Gen. J. M. Schofield, Secretary of War:

SIR—I have the honor to submit the reports of Division and Department Commanders for the past year. These reports give a full account of the operations and services of the army for the year, and I refer to them for details.

I would earnestly renew my recommendation of last year, that the control of the Indians be transferred to the War Department.

I call special attention to the recommendation of General Sherman on the subject. It has my earnest approval. It is unnecessary that the argument in favor of the transfer should be restated. The necessity for it becomes stronger and more evident every day. While the Indian war continues, I do not deem any general legislation for the reduction of the army advisable. The troops on the plains are all needed.

Troops are still needed in the Southern States, and the further reduction can be made in the way already used, and now in operation, where it is safe, namely, by allowing Companies to diminish by discharges without being strengthened by recruits and by stopping appointments of Second Lieutenants.

If it should be deemed advisable, the veteran reserve regiments might be discontinued by absorption and retirement of the officers, and the discharge of men, without detriment to the services.

Very Respectfully,

U. S. GRANT,
GENERAL.

General Grant departed northward to-day.

The Treasury Agents seized, in New York, on Friday, thirty-five thousand yards of fine Lyons Silks, and a large quantity of French Cloaks.—This is the largest seizure ever made in the United States, aggregating seventy thousand dollars.

FROM RICHMOND—MR. DAVIS—UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT.

RICHMOND, Nov. 30, M.

This morning, in the United States Circuit Court, Robert Ould, counsel for Mr. Davis, made a motion to quash the indictment against him, on the ground that the fourteenth Amendment prescribes the mode of punishment for participating in rebellion, which is disfranchisement, and that no other punishment is prescribed.

The Prosecuting Attorney moved to postpone the motion till the latter part of the term.

Chief Justice Chase decided to hear the argument on the motion, on Thursday.

Our Midnight Dispatches.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30, P. M.

General Meade's report gives a detailed account of his operations. He was applied to from all parts of States under his command to remove occupants from office and appoint others in their stead. He declined making changes, except where neglect of duty was proved, or attempted obstruction to the Reconstruction acts. He refers to the anomalous condition of affairs and suggests that more power be given to Department Commanders.

The suit of John Naglee vs. Stanton, for injury to Naglee's farm in Prince William county, during the war, was dismissed, at Naglee's cost.

None of the targets at Fortress Monroe were found equal to the heavy ordnance used during the recent experiments.

Should the Indian war continue its costs next year will be estimated at fifty millions.

FROM NEW YORK—ARREST.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30, P. M.

Geo. W. McLean, of the Treasury secret service Department, was committed to Jail, to-day, for passing a counterfeit ten dollar-bill. McLean, pleads drunkenness in extenuation.

FROM SOUTH CAROLINA—GOV. SCOTT'S MESSAGE.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 30, P. M.

Gov. Scott, to-day, sent his message to the Legislature.

He takes an encouraging view of the position of affairs in this State and gives substantial reasons for his belief that no State in the Union is more solvent or has a fairer prospect of meeting all her liabilities.

The aggregate receipts of the State Treasury for the six months ending Oct. 31st, have been $435,573, and expenditures for the same period, $409,683.

FROM FLORIDA.

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 30, P. M.

On the adjournment of the Supreme Court, today, the argument on the motion to quash the proceedings was unfinished. Will be continued to-morrow.

SOUTHERN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

PURELY A SOUTHERN INSTITUTION.

PRINCIPAL OFFICES:
Atlanta, Georgia; Memphis, Tennessee; Louisville, Kentucky.

CAPITAL STOCK, $228,500.

Nett Assets of the Company, July 1st, 1868, $330,942.06.

Insures Lives, and promptly adjusts and pays losses. Its principal business is with Southern States, and to them it appeals for patronage. It has ample means to fully protect Policy holders and pay all losses.

The "Southern" combines the advantage of both note and cash system, stock and mutual—such as choose to pay cash may do so and secure a non-forfeitable policy and all the advantages of a Cash Company. The privilege of a permanent loan for one-third is granted to all who desire it.

It makes investments at home in good and reliable securities, thereby tending to make money more plenty in our midst, and to aid in developing the resources of our section, and to stop the annual drain of over Six Million dollars, which are being sent North for Life Insurance.

Its profits are equitably distributed among Policy holders and Stockholders.

In its organization are presented men of experience in Life Insurance, and their aim will be to make the "Southern Life" the exponent of the business, enterprise and progress of the present day.

UNIVERSAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY. A GOOD MAN Leaveth an INHERITANCE. NEW YORK.

No extra charge for Females. No charge for Medical Examination, Policies or stamps.

THE UNIVERSAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, NEW YORK.

Office, No. 60, Liberty Street.

The Original Joint Stock Life Insurance Company in the United States.

The business of this Company is EXCLUSIVELY confined to the insurance of first-class healthy lives.

THE DISTINCTIVE FEATURE of the STOCK system of Life Insurance, as opposed to the MUTUAL, is a low rate of premium for a stated sum assured, which is IMMEDIATE, SECURED, and CERTAIN; in lieu of a high rate of premium for a promised dividend which is DISTANT, CONTINGENT, and UNCERTAIN; this so-called dividend being merely a return of a portion of the excessive and unnecessary premium charged in the first instance.

ILLUSTRATION.

Suppose that an individual aged thirty desires to devote $200 a year for the purpose of effecting an insurance on his life; this amount will immediately secure him in the "Universal" the sum of $11,731, payable on his decease. This sum, paid to a Company charging the ordinary mutual rates, would secure him the sum of $8,474.

The difference between these sums ($3,277) is exactly the same as an immediate bonus or addition to the policy to be paid by the former office to the holder of the policy in case of the early death of the insured. It is true that if the insured, in an office charging high rates, live long enough, and have his periodical dividends added to his policy, the sum may equal or surpass that above named; but it must not be forgotten that the chance of early death is the very thing the applicant desires to insure against, and consequently the greater the sum immediately secured contingent on this event, the greater the advantage to the policy-holder.

To illustrate the importance to the policy-holder of low premiums in more general terms, it may be stated that by a reduction of twenty-five per cent in the rate of premium, the same amount of money will secure a policy thirty-three and one-third per cent greater, and likewise that a reduction of twenty-five per cent. in the rate of premium is precisely equivalent to an annual cash dividend of thirty three and one-third per cent., payable in advance, or to a dividend of forty-four per cent, payable at the end of five years.

By the Stock plan the full cash effect of the premium is immediately secured to the insured, the Company taking all the risk. By the Mutual plan, the full value in insurance of the premium paid is not secured to the policy-holder, who takes a portion of the risk himself.

Rates to Secure $1,000 at Death.

All the improved descriptions of Life and Endowment Policies issued on the Stock plan at greatly reduced rates.

Policies issued at rates less than those charged by Mutual Companies, guaranteeing the return of all premiums paid in addition to the amount insured.

Policies issued at rates less than those charged by Mutual Companies, guaranteeing a red section of fifty per cent of the premium after the third annual payment.

The undersigned having been appointed General Agents for the States of North and South Carolina, for the above STERLING Company, desire Agents in all the principal towns and sections in said States. To live and energetic Agents, who are WILLING and ANXIOUS to work, liberal terms will be entered into. COMMISSIONS GOOD.

NEW GOODS! NEW GOODS!

AT HOME AGAIN!!

WITH A HOUSE RAMMED AND PACKED FULL OF

NEW FALL AND WINTER GOODS,

FOR

1868.

COME TO

A. CREECH'S!

For Ladies' Goods! For Gentlemen's Goods! For Misses' Goods! For Boys' Goods! Ditto for Children!

MY STOCK IS LARGE AND VERY COMplete. Allow me to say that you see some very strange advertisements. Some say they bought goods before the rise—some after the decline—some just in time—some in luck again—some buy goods cheaper than anybody else—some selling goods at unprecedentedly low prices—some controlling the trade &c., &c., and all such stuff. What a lucky set of individuals!

Now just let ME tell you, that there is more humbug than poetry in all this. Don't every man, woman and child know that it is humbug—large enough to be seen even with one eye shut? So let them talk, puff and blow, but stop. LOOK OUT! HANDS OFF! and show your good judgment by to buy your goods. I intend to run through this campaign with my motto, to give each and every individual value received for their support!

A fine opportunity for the ladies to exercise their inalienable rights, as well as the gentlemen. Don't stop until you COME TO CREECH'S. You will find me at R. Smith's corner, attending to my business, always ready to give you the worth of your money.

THE CONNECTICUT MUTUAL

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

INCORPORATED IN 1846.

The following table will show with what comparative economy the Connecticut Mutual has been managed for the last ten years:

[From the Hon. Elizur Wright's Reports.]

Ratio of Expenses to Receipts for ten years.

Connecticut Mutual	9.22
Mutual Life	11.04
New York Life	13.99
Etna (4 years)	16.62

ACCUMULATED ASSETS,

$20,000,000.00.

ANNUAL INCOME,

$7,530,886.89.

SURPLUS ASSETS OVER $6,000,000.

AVERAGE DIVIDENDS OVER 50 PER CENT.

Insure your life in the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL, which has proven to be the cheapest, best and most reliable Company in the world, because it has the largest amount of surplus, largest number of Policy holders, and rates of expenses less. Simply a Mutual Benefit Society—a combination of individuals united to help one another by the safest and best method known; and if a member cannot make but two or three payments will receive his proportionate amount.

Will issue Policies on any plan devised.

THE

PAID

$5,078.00

FOR $312.

Life Insurance Practically Illustrated in the Old Ætna Company, in North Carolina.

"Received of the Ætna Life Insurance Company, by the hands of W. H. Crow, General Agent, five thousand and seventy-eight dollars in cash, being in full for my deceased husband's policy, No. 16,159, of five thousand dollars, and the $78 being a cash dividend of 50 per cent. on the same. SOPHIE KLINE."

Raleigh, Oct. 30, 1868.

The subject of the above loss, A. Kline, Esqr., Merchant in the City of Raleigh, paid for his policy of $5,000, as follows:

Jan. 8	1866, cash paid,	$156.
" "	1867, "	156.
" "	1868, "	78.

At this time, the Company return a Cash dividend of 50 per cent. His policy is paid, as above, $5,078, receipted for.

The entire cost received by the Company was $312. Had this been deposited in a Savings Bank, at 6 per cent. interest, his surviving wife and children would have

Principal,	$312
Two years, 9 months and 22 days Int.,	52 26
Total	$364 26

Gentlemen of business intelligence require no argument to discover the superior advantage of Life Insurance, simply as an investment, to say no more. Persons contemplating this mode of investment will find it to their interest to call on the subscriber, or some one of his local Agents, before insuring elsewhere.
